PARENTS COMMISSION MEETING PRESENTATIONS

ARIZONA DEPARTMENT OF CHILD SAFETY

Co-Chair FireThunder welcomed and introduced Ms. Lisa Cadman, Indian Child Welfare Specialist, Department of Child Safety (DCS). Ms. Cadman thanked the Commission for the opportunity to present.

Ms. Cadman shared the mission and vision of DCS and the purpose of the Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA). Ms. Cadman reported the SFY20 statistics for the number of reports to DCS; including the types of abuse (neglect and physical, sexual, and emotional abuse), and the demographic breakdown of the children served. Ms. Cadman stated that ICWA was established in 1978 and the purpose is to protect the right of an Indian child to live with a native family and to stabilize and foster continual tribal existence and preserve tribal culture. Ms. Cadman stated that ICWA applies to all youth who may be a member of a tribe in all circumstances related to dependency. Ms. Cadman shared that DCS is responsible for determining whether the child is a tribal member and to address any barriers that might hinder an Indian child to be placed with a native family. Ms. Cadman stated that DCS also provides the child's parents additional support to overcome barriers that might hinder the parents' ability to participate in their DCS service plan. Ms. Cadman shared that ICWA establishes that the child, the parents, and the tribe are all parties to be involved in the child's dependency case. Co-Chair FireThunder thanked Ms. Cadman and asked the commission if there were any questions.

- Commissioner Lantsman-Waugh: What happens if a native foster care family cannot be found? Ms. Cadman: Every effort is made to place a child with a Native American family. If the child is placed with a non-native family, DCS continues to search for a native family until one can be found that will take the child.
- Commissioner Burlingame: Are group homes included in this process? Ms. Cadman: Some tribes have group homes available, but there are limited ICWA compliant group homes. DCS continues to work on certifying additional group homes due to the need.
- Co-Chair FireThunder: How are children confirmed as members of a particular tribe and what if a child is not enrolled in a tribe? Ms. Cadman: The child's parent will inform DCS that the child is a member. DCS conducts a review with the referenced tribe to confirm. ICWA only applies to children who are officially enrolled as a tribal member.

Co-Chair FireThunder thanked Ms. Cadman for her presentation.

Co-Chair FireThunder welcomed and introduced Ms. Christine Barry, Director of Prevention Services, Arizona Youth Partnership (AZYP). Ms. Barry thanked the Commission for the opportunity to present.

Co-Chair FireThunder thanked Ms. Barry and asked the commission if there were any questions.

- Commissioner Lantsman-Waugh: How are families recruited into the program? Ms. Barry: Staff meet with schools and other youth-serving organizations to speak to parents. During COVID, more reliance was on emailed flyers and word of mouth.
- Commissioner Lantsman-Waugh: Why do role-play exercises always involve youth-adult pairings rather than youth-youth? Ms. Barry: This is to minimize unintended consequences. Some youth may feel uncomfortable role-playing with their peer. These interactions could have bullying implications.
