WELCOME AND INTRODUCTIONS

- Chairperson Beagley welcomed members and guests and took attendance via roll call.

APPROVAL OF MINUTES

- Chairperson Beagley requested a review of the May 15, 2024, minutes and asked for a motion to approve the minutes as drafted.
 - Nicholas Stavros motioned to approve the minutes.
 - Deputy Chief of Staff Tracy Lopes seconded the motion.

MARICOPA COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE

- Chairperson Beagley welcomed and introduced Director Shannon Scheel to share information about the role, responsibilities, and services of the Maricopa County Sheriff's Office \(MCSO\).
- Director Scheel provided an overview of the MCSO's current state and ongoing challenges and initiatives. The MCSO manages five jails with 7,060 inmates and supports 35 local and state law enforcement agencies. A significant issue highlighted was the 28% vacancy rate among law enforcement and correctional officers, which MCSO addresses by increasing pay and benefits to attract recruits.
- Director Scheel provided statistics on overdose victims, indicating that 64% are white, 80% are male, and the primary age range is 24-45 years. Most victims are unemployed and have never been married, with 60% enrolled in the Arizona Health Care Cost Containment System (AHCCCS). Notably, 40% of overdose deaths occurred at home, and 40% of victims reported using drugs before the age of 18.
- In response to the overdose crisis, public safety officers receive training to use Naloxone. Instead of jail, officers are encouraged to take individuals to treatment facilities such as Community Bridges Inc.(CBI), Community Medical Services (CMS), and Arizona Connections. Drug Disposal Locations also help the community by conveniently locating prescription collection sites for unneeded or expired prescriptions left in the home. These medications can lead to accidental poisoning and can also be an easy source for those seeking to misuse or abuse prescription medication.

- Director Scheel discussed the treatment options available for individuals in custody. All inmates are offered screening for substance use disorder (SUD) and provided with medication-assisted treatment (MAT) or the continuation of their current treatment. The Recovering Enduring Dignity Education Empower Mindfulness (REDEEM) program offers further support through a 12-step program, parenting classes, and yoga.
- Director Scheel continued his presentation by discussing current drug trends, specifically the increasing use of counterfeit pills (M-30s) and the addition of fentanyl to methamphetamine. However, alcohol and marijuana are still the most widely used substances among school-age children. He noted the high levels of stress and anxiety experienced by children, who often keep their struggles to themselves to avoid further burdening their parents or caregivers.
- Chairperson Beagley thanked Director Shannon Scheel for the presentation and asked commission members if they had any questions or comments. No commissioners asked questions or had any comments.

PHOENIX INDIAN CENTER

- Chairperson Beagley welcomed and introduced Jolyana Begay-Kroupal to share information about the role, responsibilities, and services of the Phoenix Indian Center.
- Jolyana Begay-Kroupa discussed how the Phoenix Indian Center is the oldest organization of its kind in the nation. Phoenix has the third-largest Indian American population in the United States, following New York and Los Angeles.
- The center collaborates with federal, state, and local agencies to provide various human resources services, such as workforce development, youth development programs, language and culture preservation, community initiatives, family support, and prevention/intervention.
 - Utilize the motto "Culture is prevention" to underscore their approach.
 - Focus primarily on preventing marijuana use and educating adults about the dangers of underage alcohol consumption.
 - Phoenix Union High School District and Mesa Public Schools mentor and coach students, emphasizing the importance of storytelling and cultural awareness in addressing historic and intergenerational trauma.
 - The Governor's Office of Youth, Faith and Family (GOYFF) provides financial support for the organization's evidence-based programs, such as 'Parenting in 2 Worlds' and 'Living in 2 Worlds', and evaluated by Arizona State University (ASU).
- Jolyana Begay-Kroupa discussed the difficulties they are experiencing due to low enrollment, which they attribute to the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic. Factors such as reluctance to participate in person, Zoom fatigue, and individuals prioritizing work and immediate needs contribute to this challenge. Additionally, strict guidelines from the Arizona Department of Education (ADE) have made integrating their programs into schools hard. To boost participation, the center has introduced incentives such as providing dinners and has also set up small focus groups to gather feedback on their marketing strategies.
- Chairperson Beagley thanked Jolyana Begay-Kroupa for the presentation and asked commission members if they had any questions or comments. No commissioners asked questions or had any comments.

- CPLC's Family Support Services feature coordinators who collaborate closely with teachers and school staff to participate in Individualized Education Program (IEP) meetings and conduct home visits. During these visits, coordinators evaluate family challenges, such as transportation and food insecurity, and offer practical support, including delivering food boxes to those in need.

- Ms. Townsend mentioned hosting Arizona's Rx Drug Misuse and Abuse events, educational sessions on drug use education, administering Narcan, and distributing lock boxes for prescription drugs to enhance safety and prevent misuse in the community.
- CPLC collaborates with First Things First to develop a culturally relevant American Indian curriculum program titled 'Fatherhood and Motherhood are Sacred,' which aims to empower parents through culturally sensitive education and support.
