Case Study

BIOS

Dillon Richhart has been a probation officer for almost ten years. He has worked with both juvenile and adult populations. Prior, he worked with the Department of Corrections & Rehabilitation where he gained critical knowledge and insight into security threat groups. He was a teacher for the Public Safety & Law classes at Kingman Unified School District and holds a Master of Public Administration with an emphasis in Government and Policy from GCU.

Emily Snay has been with the probation department since 2012 in the juvenile division. She has held caseloads in intensive and standard probation, as well as specialty court, was a field unit supervisor and is now the Treatment Coordinator. She has a Master of Public Administration from GCU and is the department MVST Liaison to the AOC.
